INTRODUCTION.

Having been allowed by Mr. Woodward to make this catalogue in my own way, choosing whatever I found to suit my taste, and rejecting almost as much for want of room, I shall continue to exercise the same freedom here, addressing myself now to that republic of amateurs, popularly known as Coin Collectors.

On almost every page will be found something worthy of competition, commencing with the proof tokens of the French Republic (No. 18); and continuing with the fine Liberia pennies and half-pennies, and the Victoria and Chili patterns (Nos. 20 to 24); under the head of Foreign Copper Coins and Tokens to No. 150.

In the first series of cents are many of the very best quality. I have tried to give an exact idea of each one in the description; and, although far from claiming to be less liable than other men to make mistakes, yet I trust no one will be misled by me. A good deal has been said on this weighty topic, yet surely there is nothing occult about it. It would seem that ordinary intelligence and candor, joined to sufficient experience, ought to qualify the average man, without unduly straining his understanding, to write a reliable description of a cent.

In the small department of colonials, the N. E. Penny from Dr. Clay's collection, and the two "New Yorke" tokens, claim attention. These, with the fine and rare Florida Piece, are highly interesting and valuable coins. In the same series will be found several rare state cents, particularly varieties of the "Immune Columbia," and the rare "Gloucester Shilling" token.

The admirers of English coins will find an unexpected treat here. I confess my surprise at finding such pieces as No. 520 and 521, 524 and 525, 527 and 529, and 560 to 568, in the miscellaneous stock of an old collector. These rare and costly coins were imported by Mr. Mickley, and in some instances I have given their prices from his memoranda. The penny of Louis le Debonaire (No. 581), and the groats of Louis XI., Henry III., and Francis II., were from the same collection.

Under the heads "American Medals," "Commemorative Medals and Private Tokens," and "Presidential and Political Medals," are many pieces quite unique, and others of which but few were struck, all of which cannot fail to attract the attention they deserve.

There are a few rare "Washington's," particularly the half dollar in copper (1185). The same may be said of "Patterns,' and Nos. 1136 and 1137 are certainly among the attractions of the Catalogue. Of the regular silver coins struck at the mint, the best examples will, perhaps, be found among the dimes and half dimes, many of which are unusually fine.

The "Isle of Man collection" is presented very nearly in its original form, as described by Dr. Clay. It has been rather improved than otherwise, by removing duplicates. This is probably the most complete collection of the kind existing, and should on no account be broken up. It will be sold as a whole, if reasonable encouragement is given at the time of sale.

The few antiques offered are genuine; it is to be wished there were more of them. The snuff boxes are many of them from the John Allan collection; they were among his best.

A word of apology is due to our ardent friends, who are expected to buy the tomahawks and scalping knives, with the leggings, medicine bags, and necklaces of our red brethren and sisters; also to those admirers of flowers and ferns, who will come to see the uncounted bundles here offered. It is to be regretted that the entertainment to which they are invited is not more ample; it might have been otherwise; the material was not exhausted; we had stuffed specimens—lone pelicans from the wilderness, and social prairie dogs—but the question of time became momentous; it was necessary to draw a line somewhere, and we drew it between the flora and the fauna of the great Pacific slope.

W. H. Strobridge.

COLONIAL AND STATE COINS AND TOKENS.

371 N. E. Penny. Obv. Monogram of New England, rev. in hollow, 1. Struck over an old Gros Turnois; from the cabinet of Dr. Clay, unique.

At the time of the sale of Dr. Clay's Coins, it wus suggested that the N. E. Penny might have been made for the American market subsequent to the origin of the demand here for such rarities. The writer never shared this opinion; it appeared to him then as it does now, that great weight should be conceded to the statement of Dr. Clay, that it was found, together with other New England money, "in one hoarded mass, where it had lain many years."

1652.

372 Pine Tree Shilling. Broad and very rare.
373 " Much worn and clipped, rare type.
374 Oak Tree Shilling. Rev. fine, rare.
375 " Two Pence, 1662. Fine and rare.

377 Electrotype Copy of Pine Tree Two Pence. Very fine.

NEW YORKE TOKEN.

378 Grove of Palms. Cupid, bow in hand, running. Figure standing, partially draped. Rev. Eagle displayed. NEW YORKE IN AMERICA. In brass. Size 14, unique.

379 Same in soft metal, dark color. Very rare.

The New Yorke token, in brass, was found in a lot of several thousand Nuremberg and French Jetons, a recent importation from the Continent of Europe by Wm. P. Brown, of New York. The other was in the Bache collection, and was once offered by Mr. Woodward at one of his sales in New York, at a limit of one hundred and fifty dollars. The writer well remembers the piece as he saw it in a drawer with the Virginia Shilling, naked bust Washington, and kindred rarities in Mr. Bache's cabinet. In the Hist. Mag., vol. v., p. 294, may be found a short account of this piece, from which the following is an extract: "There is no date to the token; but it evidently belongs to the period between 1664, when the name NEW YORKE was first adopted, and 1710, after which it was rarely spelled with an e. Without venturing to claim that this coin contains the earliest display of the American Eagle, we think it unquestionably deserves to be considered the EARLIEST NEW YORK TOKEN."

LORD BALTIMORE'S COINS.

380 Shilling. Head. CÆCILIVS: Dns: TERRÆ MARIÆ & CT. ✠, rev. Arms of Baron Baltimore under a crown, XII. Very fine and rare.

1516 Pompeian Furnace, on ten feet. On a level with the bottom are ten openings of 1 inch diameter, the cylinder contracting from the width of the base, which is ten inches, to about four near the top. A hard and tough Terra Cotta, slightly imperfect. 10 inches high.

NOTE.—Furnaces like the one just described are often found among ancient ruins, and their location, generally in courts and gardens, favors the inference that they were used to burn incense in the open air. Those found at Pompeia are sometimes filled with a white and almost impalpable powder, which reminds one forcibly of Pliny's account of his uncle's death, caused by the fine ashes with which the fatal eruption of Vesuvius filled the air at that time. It is an interesting fact, that the hollow parts of this old Roman utensil still contain considerable quantities of these ashes.

A COMPLETE COLLECTION

OF THE

Isle of Man Currency,

FROM ITS FIRST TO ITS LATEST ISSUES,

WITH

Bank Notes and Money Cards,

IN CONNECTION WITH THE ISLAND, OR

ILLUSTRATIVE OF THE TRIUNE.

By CHARLES CLAY, M.D., of Manchester, Eng.

The most complete collection of the kind in the world, and one that cannot be formed again.

1620 Greek Money. Fine specimens in silver and copper, on which the Triune is variously disposed, either occupying the whole field, or in part only with other figures.

5 pieces

NOTE.—These coins are chiefly Sicilian. The shape of the Island of Sicily, or its three-fold connection with neighboring States, are said to be represented by this Triune figure.

1621 Leather Money; a specimen that once circulated in the Island and in England.

1622 Butcher's Penny. An exceedingly fine specimen of this Irish coin or token, in fine brass; obv. shield and winged bull (crest of the Butcher's Co. Arms); "Mic. Wilson, of Doublin." Rev. St. George and Dragon; "His half-penny. 1672." This coin circulated freely in the Isle of Man until suppressed by the laws of the Island. Very rare.

1623 Forgery of the last, in copper; very rare.

1624 Butcher's Penny; Limerick, 1679. Rev. "Limerick Butchers," with "Agnus Dei;" also rare, and formerly circulated in the Island.

1626 Patrick half-pence. Obv. as last. Rev. St. Patrick with staff cross casting out reptiles. "Quiescat Pebs;" in copper: very fine. . . 4 pieces

1626* The same in Silver; fine; very rare.

1627 Norwich token; very small, with the Triune and the name "John Hutton;" rev. I_H E. "In Norwich, 1657."

NOTE.—This coin is placed here to show that the Triune was used on an English token 11 years previously to any coin connected with the Isle of Man; remarkable and very rare, perhaps UNIQUE.

1628 Southwark token, rev. Triune; no date, and city token, eagle and child crest, 1668. Two pieces.

1629 John Murray's penny. A very fine specimen of this excessively rare, if not UNIQUE piece. The first coin ever issued as such in the Island, with the motto, "Quocunque Gesseris Stabit," and the Triune with the limbs acutely flexed on it. Rev. "John Murray, 1668," etc.

1630 Isle of Man penny, 1709. Obv. Derby crest (eagle and child, and cap of Maintenance), "Sans Changer 1709." Rev. "Quocunque Gesseris Stabit." In magnificent preservation. Varieties. . . 2 pieces

1631 Isle of Man half-penny, 1709. Obv. and rev. same as last. Very fine and rare. . . 3 pieces

1632 Forgery of the same date. Rare.

1633 Isle of Man penny, 1723. This fine piece has been double struck. On the obverse the eagle is very large, the joints of the wings appear double, and the beak quite open. The reading is "Sa Sans Chan 1723." Rev. Triune armed and spurred, "Quocuncve Gesse Gesseris Stabit." Extremely rare.

1634 Isle of Man penny, 1723. A fine proof impression in copper, with the usual Crest Triune and Mottoes correctly given. I believe unique.

1635 Isle of Man half-penny. Trial piece of SILVER, 1723. Very fine, and I believe UNIQUE.

1636 Isle of Man penny, 1724. The only one ever known. Die broken.

1637 Half-pennies, 1723. Only found in this collection. Very fine.

1638 Isle of Man half-penny. Divided date, 17–32. This magnificent proof has the following peculiarities : obv. divided date ; eagle small, wings raised very high ; a branch issuing from the head of the cradle, having upon it eight leaves, the points of each twisted ; rev. the Triune very large ; the motto, Quocunque Ieceris, etc., for the first time ; and between the legs, the letters J. D. and the figure 1, also for the first time. Only in this collection.

1639 One differing slightly from the last, but sufficient to constitute a variety. Another magnificent and unique proof of the same date.

1640 Another, quite different ; smaller size. Extremely fine.

1641 Isle of Man pennies, 1733. Fine proofs ; trial pieces, in silver. In these, the branch attached to the head of the cradle is missing, and the date placed undivided in the exergue. Extremely rare. . . 2 pieces

1642 Similar to the last, in copper, thick ; weight, 160 grs. Very fine.

1643 Similar to last, but thinner ; weighing only 120 grs.—evidently forgeries. . . 2 pieces

1644 Other forgeries. Rare and curious, fine. . 2 "

1645 Isle of Man trial piece, 1733. Fine proof, silver.

1646 The same in Bath metal, 1733. Fine proof.

1647 The same in copper. Fine proof.

1648 Forgery of 1733, weiging only 53 grs.

NOTE.—All the preceding, with the Triune dates 1732 and 1733, were designed and struck by the celebrated Wood. the designer of the "Wood Money" and the "Rosa Americana" coinage.

1649 Athol penny, 1758. Beautiful proof trial piece in silver. Obv. a monogram and ducal crown ; date in Exergue, edge milled ; rev. has no letters between the limbs, and the formerly Iceris in the motto, is now Jeceris, which description will serve for all the Athol coins, and will not be repeated. Extremely rare.

1650 Another. Struck from different dies ; also a pattern and very beautiful. Silvered. Rare.

1651 Athol penny, 1758. Very fine uncirculated impression in copper.

1652 Same in different metal. Dark color, extremely fine, nearly proof, weighing 170 grs. . . 2 pieces

1653 Forgery of the same, weighing only 120 grs.

1654 Athol half-penny, 1758. Fine proof, very rare.

1655 A repetition of last. Very fine, slight variety.

1656 Athol half-penny, in copper, 1758. Very fine, nearly proof. Weight, 96 grs.

1657 Others, very fine. . . . 2 pieces

1658 Athol penny of 1758. A fine forgery.

NOTE.—The Island being subsequently disposed of to Government, the next very beautiful coins were dated 1786.

1659 George III. penny, 1786. The king's head laureated to right; rev. Triune and motto. Edge milled, beautiful proof, copper. Extremely rare.

1560 Another; silvered. Equally beautiful, proof.

1561 Very fine penny this date. Copper.

1562 Half-penny, 1786. Same type, splendid proof.

1563 The same; silvered.

1564 One in copper; bright red. Proof.

1669 Others this date. Same; type fine. 2 "

1670 Geo. III. penny, 1813. Proofs; silvered for photographing.

1671 Not silvered. Uncirculated.

1672 Others this date. Very fine. . . 2 pieces

1673 Half-penny, same date and type; extremely fine.

1674 Others; very fine. . . 2 pieces

NOTE.—In all the Georgian pieces the Triune is but slightly flexed, and appears to run rather than to kneel.

1675 Victoria penny, 1839. Very fine.

1676 Half-pennies, same date. Fine. . . 2 pieces

1677 Farthing. Uncirculated.

1678 Others. Extremely fine. . . . 2 pieces

NOTE.—These are the first Farthings struck for the Island, and from this period the coinage of the Triune ceased.

1679 Token for one penny, 1811. Equal to proof; silvered.

1680 Others. Extremely fine. . . . 2 pieces

1681 Token for half-penny, same date and type; extremely fine; silvered.
